Augustine of Hippo (13 November 354 – 28 August 430) was an early Christian theologian and philosopher whose writings influenced the development of Western Christianity and Western philosophy. He was the bishop of Hippo Regius (modern-day Annaba, Algeria), located in Numidia (Roman province of Africa). He is viewed as one of the most important Church Fathers in Western Christianity for his writings in the Patristic Era. Among his most important works are The City of God and Confessions.

Robert's quote: 'Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right?' actually comes from Genesis 18.25 and not from the Book of Revelation, as he says on the CD. The quote that he was thinking of was about the rejoicing in heaven when God's judgements are proclaimed, namely Revelation 19.1-3:

After this I heard a sound like the roar of a great multitude in heaven, shouting: "Hallelujah! Salvation and glory and power belong to our God! For His judgments are true and righteous; He has judged the great prostitute who corrupted the earth with her immorality, He has avenged the blood of His servants that was poured out by her hand." And a second time they called out: "Hallelujah!"

Paul's phrase that Robert quotes comes from Romans 12.21:
'Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good.'
